Empower your advancement professionals

Role-based advancement dashboards and reports provide personalized views of progress and targets so fundraisers can quickly research and qualify prospects by donor participation and donor giving levels. And real-time access to the data they need, in the office or on the road through mobile and tablet devices, keeps team members effective, engaged, and proactive.

Drive strategic and operational planning processes

Powerful analytics help advancement leaders view performance based on pledge, gift, and matching gift metrics, which can be analyzed by donor, campaign, assigned staff, and funding purpose. Dashboards and analytics let managers monitor campaign progress and track prospect engagement to align resources and take actions that really move the needle.

Deliver timely performance information

Executives can view fundraising metrics, division progress, and results of multi-year capital campaigns. They can drill down to better understand why a program is under-performing or exceeding expectations to make quick adjustments. Scorecards deliver information that helps advancement leaders identify and prioritize new funding opportunities as well as answer questions and share key information.
