Build a digital campus that connects your entire community

“It is very important that we continually embrace new technology to support our image as a place of excellence and leadership in the field of higher education.”

In recent years, quality reform in education has become an issue of national priority in countries across the Gulf region. The goal of education has gone beyond simply increasing literacy levels as Gulf countries consciously move toward improving quality standards in education and developing knowledge-based economies. Expectations for improved performance are prompting higher and vocational education leaders to think more creatively about how their people, processes, and technology can work together more efficiently to support institutional goals. Building the right foundation for your institution has never been more critical.

We are beginning to see a new generation of education policy makers and administrators in the Gulf who are looking to IT to support decision making, transform the process of teaching and learning, as well as provide students with new ways of working together.

Ellucian helps institutions build, manage, and extend their digital campus—an environment where individuals, systems, and communities can interact seamlessly to increase efficiency, improve service delivery, and provide personalized, high-quality education experiences that propel desired outcomes. An Ellucian student management system helps you create an education community where students can have the personalized services they demand, where faculty can facilitate teaching and learning in the classroom or online, and where departmental staff across your institution have the information and support they need to be more effective.

With an Ellucian student management system, you can:

- Automate admissions—Eliminate manual processes and save significant staff time by enabling prospective students to apply online through a self-service portal
- Provide anywhere, anytime student access—Offer self-service functionality for students to enroll, register, and pay for courses using the portal with mobile applications
- Simplify records management—Maintain a single system for all your data needs—and a single digital record for each student enabling departmental access to consistent student information
- Engage faculty—Allow faculty to enter and update grades, and have personalized access to timely, accurate, and institution-wide information
- Manage resources—Manage personnel, funds and processes more transparently
- Strengthen decision-making—Track metrics that guide day-to-day operations, meet reporting requirements, and engage your organization

Unify people

An Ellucian student management system enables you to deliver reliable support by providing personalized portal environments, tools for improved communication and outreach, and self-service capabilities—all driven by consistent information from a common database. This consistency enables you to engage your community and make sure each and every member can get the information they need.

Unify processes

With a scalable, integrated, and flexible infrastructure in place, you can create more efficient business processes and workflows, manage data more effectively, and allocate resources more efficiently, reducing the cost of service and fostering excellence at every level of your organization. With common standards, tools, and capabilities, you can improve data access and usability for everyone across your campus, support better benchmarking and reporting, and make more informed strategic decisions to move your campus missions forward.

Unify technology

Ellucian student management systems leverage leading technologies so that you have a proven foundation for long-term growth, no matter how complex your business needs. A more agile and responsive unified digital campus—designed around how you do business—can give you the flexibility you need to respond to a changing technological landscape. And because we adopt new technologies at a pace that makes sense for higher and vocational education, you can depend on a reliable infrastructure that returns a greater value on your investment.

“The student management system facilitates the educational process from managing student data to giving students all the resources they need throughout the student life cycle: from application through graduation and entering the workforce.”
