Superior knowledge built in

PowerCampus Advancement is the result of several years of experience in support of advancement offices and the application of today’s advanced technologies. This dynamic tool automates and increases productivity for donor accounting, campaign appeals, reporting, and information tracking, as well as pledge- and gift-processing program management.

Managing information about people

With PowerCampus, a single database supports records for alumni and all other individuals in the institution’s learning community, past and present. All of this information is accessible by the advancement office for solicitation and cultivation. Data regarding alumni employment, education, relationships, volunteer interests, associations, special salutations, and multiple addresses are easily maintained. Matching-gift policies can be set up for both the donor and their spouse, with automatic processing enabled. Users can view donor club levels and giving summaries online without the need to generate detailed, paper-based reports.

Contact management functions—critical to the relationship management process—allow you to trigger correspondence automatically based on chosen criteria. PowerCampus Advancement provides the ability to easily enter and review notes regarding these interactions with constituents and prospects.

Corporations and organizations

PowerCampus provides the ability to associate people with organizations or corporations, thereby allowing your institution to finely tune relationship development efforts. The Advancement module provides a flexible platform for establishing and maintaining diverse matching-gift policies, ensuring that your institution will be positioned to optimize its fundraising potential.

Workflow-enabled gift and pledge processing

PowerCampus provides user-defined information defaults and batch entry capability to easily process gift and pledge data. Additionally, the pledge schedule, solicitor, acknowledgment, and campaign information can be easily customized for each transaction. For quick reference, individual donor history displays when logging a new gift or pledge. The system will also display a current giving summary. In-kind and deferred gifts can be tracked as they are pledged and received. A pledge schedule can be created that calculates and updates based on the pledge term, number of payments, start date, and months selected for payments upon pledge payment entry and modification. Pledge reminders can also be created.
When recording a gift, the system will notify the user of any outstanding pledges or matching-gift forms, while allowing for easy payment selection. The system automatically updates matching-gift, giving summary, soft credit, and gift club information, eliminating additional data entry and processing and providing management and users with real-time data. Also, contact management rules can be built that allow the entry of gift and pledge information to automatically trigger a series of correspondence tasks.

The system provides a number of standard reports that are flexible and easy for users to generate on demand. PowerCampus allows you to report on your gifts and pledges, and the system provides an audit trail for the business office, as needed. One particularly useful example: the Advancement Profile Report produces a composite report of advancement data and is available for both individuals and organizations. This report allows solicitors to take a compiled history of a donor’s information and activity with them when visiting the donor, thereby facilitating a more personalized interaction.

Campaign/appeal management

PowerCampus offers flexibility in establishing your institution’s process for fundraising. Online graphs provide a visual representation of the results of each campaign, appeal, project, and solicitor. Our workflow-enabled process starts with the ability to establish goals. The system allows you to segment donors and prospects for solicitation, and track pledges until their final fulfillment. Acknowledgments are sent automatically throughout the process. PowerCampus provides a platform for comprehensive campaign management, enabling meaningful engagement and results at every stage.
