

Community-based emergency funding for at-risk students facing unexpected costs.

Why choose SponsoredScholar

Students struggle to bridge small cost gaps that arise from unexpected events. SponsoredScholar gives financial aid teams an emergency funding vehicle that students can use to cover small costs. By sharing their story with their networks—and yours—through a simple and secure platform, students can stay the course to a degree.

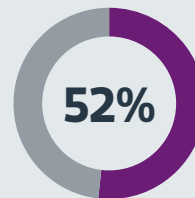

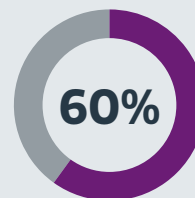

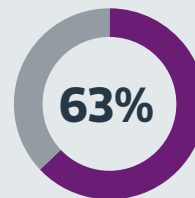

- ✓ Safe, emergency funding, ready for institutional distribution
- ✓ Customizable emergency funding campaign template, with a step-by-step fundraising guide
- ✓ Social media enabled for expanded reach

How schools benefit

Decrease dropout rates by providing a lifeline to students for small, surprise costs.

How students benefit

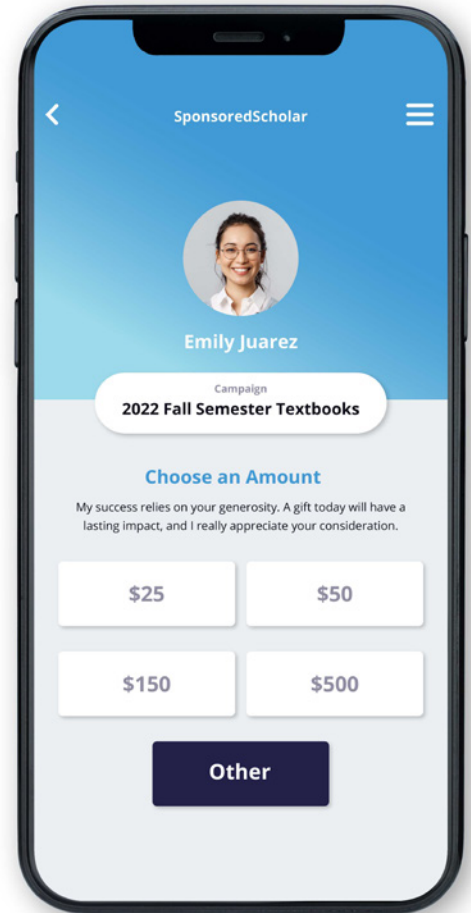

Students stay focused on academics and degree completion instead of how to make ends meet.

“

Every student has a gap. Besides academics, money is the number one reason students transfer or choose to drop out.

Eileen Tucker
Director of Financial Assistance,
Neumann University

Don't let small costs become a big problem.

38% of college students worry they won't have enough money to last the semester.

Anytime, anywhere student engagement

A mobile-optimized platform means students can secure funding wherever they are.

Leverage the power of their community

Templated campaigns allow students to collect funds in a matter of days.

Safely support your students

Deliver safe emergency fund distribution with Chase Payments.